2. We, Kathy T. Stark, Frederic Herrmann, Gia-Khanh Nguyen, and Rebecca A. Ramer, declare that Kathy T. Stark, Frederic Herrmann, Gia-Khanh Nguyen, and Rebecca A. Ramer are the joint-inventors of the invention recited in pending claims 1, 3, 5-11, 14, 16-18, 21-26, 31, 36-39 and 41-80 of the above application. At the time we conceived of and reduced to practice the invention recited in pending claims 1, 3, 5-11, 14, 16-18, 21-26, 31, 36-39 and 41-80 of the present application, we, Kathy T. Stark, Frederic Herrmann, Gia-Khanh Nguyen, and Rebecca A. Ramer, were working for Sun Microsystems, Inc. at its facility in Menlo Park, California. We made the invention at our place of employment in Menlo Park, California.

3. We conceived and reduced to practice the invention prior to September 8, 2000, as is shown by the enclosed copy of our Invention Disclosure Form. While the dates on the Invention Disclosure Form have been redacted, we verify that these dates are prior to September 8, 2000.

4. We also declare that the Network and Method For Coordinating High Availability System Services of pending claims 1, 3, 5-11, 14, 16-18, 21-26, 31, 36-39 and 41-80 are disclosed in the Invention Disclosure Form including, but not limited to:

A network having a plurality of nodes running services that collaborate to provide a distributed environment for one or more applications;

A node within a network of nodes for exchanging information;

A method for coordinating a system service within a network having a plurality of nodes, the system service comprising a cluster membership monitor for managing a cluster including a set of the plurality of nodes; and

A method for coordinating initialization in a network having a plurality of nodes.
